The light shines brightly on this family haven set on a sunny, elevated site in a modern Glenview subdivision. Its 164sqm footprint maximises space effectively and the outlook provides a pleasant background to everyday living. The home has been lightly lived in, and its brick and tile construction, double-glazing, and mod cons, such as two heat pumps, a Harrison ventilation system, bottled gas infinity hot water, and four wired security cameras make it comfortable, secure, and easy to maintain. There's not much to do but relax!
