You will be Amazed when you discover this delightful property!

A two-bedroom split stone unit with renovations, insulation, and a cosy heat pump certainly adds to its appeal. The fact that it's down a right of way, away from the road, contributes to a quieter and more private atmosphere. The single lock-up garage is a practical feature, providing secure parking or a workshop and storage space. The living room flowing out to a quiet, private rear section is a great highlight, as it adds a sense of spaciousness and connection to the outdoors where the green finger can enjoy their gardening. The property's proximity to shopping centres, a bus stop, and schools is a significant advantage for convenience and accessibility. Whether it's for retirement or a first home, it is a well-rounded and attractive option. Discovering hidden gems like this can be quite exciting for potential homeowners or investors.
