

3 Sussex Street, Chartwell

There is no question that this home is absolutely gorgeous no matter which way you look at it. Built in 1960s brick and tile on 677m² of freehold land and presented beautifully both inside and out. The carpet feels lovely underfoot, the spacious lounge is bright, light and in neutral colours so will fit perfectly with your furniture. There are two double bedrooms and a fresh bathroom with a luxurious oversized shower. The modern kitchen has everything you need including a new oven and cooktop and the dining area opens out to the deck and back yard for private alfresco living which features established trees, a bird bath, Tui feeder, fernery and private lawn. The single garage, potting shed, planter troughs and more add to the appeal and really showcase how loved this home has been. You simply must book a viewing or attend and open home.
