

67 Newcastle Road, Dinsdale

This four bedroom, two bathroom home combines space for family living with an easy-care 400m² external environment where there is no lawn to mow, plenty of scope for alfresco enjoyment and relaxation, and views forever. Entertainment decks feature front and back and the swimming pool will be popular over summer. Akin to townhouse or apartment living, yet offering the benefits and peace of mind of freehold ownership, the property is ideal for a family on the go. The 160m² layout presents bedrooms and bathrooms on both levels, and a social open plan kitchen and dining zone that opens to a panoramic sun-kissed deck. This marriage of spaces, prevalent both upstairs and down, blurs the line between indoors and out. In warmer weather, when the seamless flow can be optimised to the full, the immersive nature of the home will be truly appreciated. The cook's domain, set on polished native timber flooring, has a far-reaching outlook and warm connection to the convivial living and dining areas. The house is alarmed, has heat pump comfort and basement garaging. It sits on a very tidy, easily managed section close to Dinsdale shops and transport links.
